Life Application

Paul proclaimed the gospel in synagogues and marketplaces, to Jews and Gentiles, to the working class and the upper class—but he always did so in a way his audience could understand. Part of “seeing and responding” is offering Christ, whether through words or actions, in ways appropriate to other people and their situations. We become instruments of God’s grace when we proclaim and explain His love in ways that can be understood and received.

Jesus was sent to proclaim the good news about God’s kingdom—in what ways do you think His actions demonstrated the truth of His message? (See Luke 7:18–23)

During His ministry, do you think Jesus was better known for His words or His actions? Why?

Why are words and action both important? (See James 2:14–26)

A non-threatening way to begin a meaningful discussion with someone is by asking, “Where are you spiritually?” This allows the other person to say as much or as little as she feels comfortable and doesn’t make any assumptions on your part. Remember, also, to ask the Holy Spirit to help you respond appropriately, wisely and with genuine care for the other person.

Why is trying to understand Scripture important?

We all start as spiritual infants and that’s OK. Over time, however, it is necessary to grow in our understanding of God’s Word. It is not only for our benefit but for the benefit of others.

Everyone is invited to participate in this intergenerational event; age doesn't matter because there are a variety of jobs to choose from. We especially encourage you to invite friends and neighbors to join us. This is a great opportunity to honor Jesus by serving others.
